- Preliminary infringement analysis
- Prior art searches
- Patent file histories review
- Identifying potential licensees
- Gathering and analyzing technical literature
- Preparing claim charts
- Performing corporate and financial analysis
- Developing marketing materials for engagements
- Exposure to all aspects of IP related to transactions including client pitches, analytics, targeting, marketing, and closing
- Pluritas' own marketing support activities

Ideal Candidate Requirements:

- A minimum of 3-5 years of relevant technology investment banking, technology licensing, management consulting, corporate finance, or legal/patent experience.
- Strong technical knowledge primarily in general information technology sectors (e.g., Mobile, Wireless, E-Commerce, Semiconductors, Cloud Computing, Software).
- Familiarity with patents, patent drafting, and patent prosecution.
- Superior analytical and financial modeling skills.
- Strong proficiency in Microsoft Office (Excel, PowerPoint, and Word).
- Familiarity with patent search tools (e.g. Thomson Innovations, Pantros IP, etc.).
- Superior attention to detail, strong work ethic, and the ability to manage multiple projects simultaneously.
- Highly motivated self-starter who works well in an informal team environment.
- Experience as a patent attorney/agent is a plus.

Compensation:

- Compensation is competitive and based on skills and experience level.

Location:

Office in the heart of the San Francisco Financial District at 201 California Street, close to the Embarcadero BART and Muni station, and numerous bus routes.
